We shall talk about beginner, intermediate and advanced models I guess this is mainly because of the fact that there are so many student and beginner models.

You're better off with one of the cheaper Yamaha PSR keyboards. This is one factor to take into account when choosing the best keyboard for you.. These may not be the best ones for someone who is just starting out or who is on a budget.. When starting out you may not need too many keys or octaves. We'll assume you're ok with this, but you can opt-out if you wish.. If 61 keys are not enough then you obviously have to look elsewhere. The good thing is that 61 keys are enough for the majority of beginners learning to play the keyboard.

If you've got more money to spend, check out the Yamaha PSR-S670 (price: 799.99). They come with incredible features and are great for intermediate and advanced players.
